There was a caterpillar crawling
on a leaf.

One day it saw a bird flying in the sky.
“I wish I could fly,” it said.

And it saw a dragonfly flying around.
“I wish I could fly,” it said.

The caterpillar was sad and hungry.
It ate and ate.

It grew big and fat. "I'm so sleepy,"
it said.

So the caterpillar made a shell to sleep in. "I wish I could fly," it dreamed.

Some days later, the caterpillar woke up.

“Look at my wings!” said the caterpillar.
It became a beautiful butterfly.
